Regarding Russian Payment Collection Issues

Before any issues arose with Russian payment collection, our company had already been engaged in handling payment transactions related to Russian trade. When the payment collection challenges emerged, we faced a significant number of clients encountering difficulties in receiving payments. Our long-established banking channels played a crucial role in addressing these issues.

With multiple banking channels at our disposal, we have successfully helped thousands of Russian trade clients resolve their payment collection problems this year, with total collected payments exceeding 10 billion rubles.

Business Logic

Financing difficulties are the biggest challenge in the development of cross-border e-commerce.

 Small and medium-sized foreign trade enterprises face financing challenges characterized by small loan amounts, urgent needs, high frequency, and unpredictability.
Direct financing through capital markets is generally difficult to achieve.

3. Indirect financing through banks and other financial institutions is also challenging, as banks struggle to accurately and effectively assess the risks of cross-border e-commerce businesses in a timely manner, making it difficult for these enterprises to receive support.

Supply Chain Finance

Our Solution

A complete financing risk control system, which conducts re-factoring of overseas accounts receivable for export trading enterprises, in collaboration with banks, credit insurance, state-owned enterprises, and factoring companies, forming a closed-loop risk control mechanism.

Stable

Building stable settlement channels and self-developed transaction management platforms, supported by a strong operations and maintenance technical team, continuously providing efficient services to clients all over the world.
